20,000 MARCHERS IN SUFFRAGETTE PARADE

SPECTACULAR DEMONSTRATION IN NEW YORK CITY BY WOMANS SUFFRAGE ARMY

40 BANDS PLAYED

Rank and File Marched Smilingly Three Miles Under Heat of Midsummer Sun

By Associated Press.

New York, May 3.—The women's suffrage army wound up Fifth Avenue this afternoon, 20,000 strong, to the martial music of the Marseillaise, blared from forty bands. In uniforms of white, gleaming with yellow streamers they paraded in the heat of a midsummer sun for three miles, from Washington square to Fifty-Ninth street. A forest of yellow banners appealed for votes for women to an unbroken wall of spectators estimated at a quarter of a million.

Inez Millholland, riding astride a mettlesome chestnut cob, directly behind an escort of mounted police, led the marchers. Behind her walked eight girls in blue with silk flags. After them came two women in yellow with the suffrage map and its nine yellow states. Then came the long line of the rank and file marching resolutely, smilingly "for the cause."

Women with snow-white hair, children not yet out of rompers, girls from Sweden, women from New Zealand, negroes from northern states, cowgirls from Oklahoma, newsboys from the East Side, Wall street brokers—these and artisans of many trades and callings—marched in unbroken lines, eight abreast, disbanding finally at the Fifty-Ninth street plaza to overflow into two great mass meetings. The Women's Political Union, thousands strong and broken into many detachments, was in the forefront of the parade. Their banners bore many mottoes. Some of them were:

"More ballots, less bullets;" "One sex bears arms, the other soldiers;" "Peace and persuasion;" "Getting there after fighting forty years;" "Pioneers against the white slave traffic;" "Let the people rule and women are people."

Throughout the line there was borne aloft on banners the roll of women who have achieved great things. General Rosalie Jones and her little band of pilgrims that blazed the suffrage way from New York to Washington were there clad in their marching togs and heralded by a brass band of Boy Scouts. Then followed the teachers, students, sculptors, decorators, social workers and musicians. When the latter came abreast of the reviewing stand they wheeled and a dark-haired girl of sixteen stepped from their ranks and blew on her bugle a bar of stirring music. Stopped by this maneuvre, the line behind marked time while the little group sang the Marseillaise amid a thunder of applause.

Bookkeepers, stenographers, milliners, dressmakers and white goods workers bearing their motto, "In union there is strength" came next. Then followed the army of the politically equal association a thousand white clad women. The New York State Suffrage association with its banner "Victory in 1913," the New Jersey association with "Victory in 1914" and Greek, Jewish, Italian and Syrian societies for suffrage came next. Toward the end of the line marched forty-seven girls carrying an outspread yellow flag, nine-starred, upon which were showered thousands of coins. Brooklyn's thousands came next. Then came the college women, more than a thousand strong, whose members composed the Wellesley, Smith, Bryn Mawr, Barnard, New York University, Radcliffe, Adelphin and Cornell women and those of many other universities.

The men followed and after them came the newsboys. Somebody tossed a coin among the boys at Forty-Second street. True to instinct they broke the ranks and scrambled for it. Then came a shower of coins and a two-minute blockade of the parade until the marshals could disentangle the struggling arms and legs. Last came the other States where strong campaigns are going on. New Jersey, Connecticutt, Massachusetts and Maryland and last of all was Ohio, a solitary marcher bearing a loft a crepe-wrapped legend.

"Ohio, Where Woman by Perjury may be ruined. She has no voice in the judge's election. She has no voice in their impeachment. Ohio needs recall of judges. Ohio needs votes for women."

THE REFERENDUM MAY BE INVOKED

SEC. BRYAN LOOKS TO PEOPLE OF CALIFORNIA FOR FINAL JUDGMENT OF ALIEN LAW

IS CERTAIN TO PASS

Bryan Defeated in Diplomatic Mission to Legislature Would Appeal to People

By Associated Press.

Sacramento, California, May 3.—Defeated finally in his effort to dissuade the California Legislature from enacting an alien land law affecting the Japanese, Secretary of State Bryan declared this afternoon that he looked to the people of the state to express a final judgment through the referendum before the act shall go into effect. Mr. Bryan's statement was made before an open joint meeting of the Senate and Assembly immediately before his departure for Washington late this afternoon. The Assembly, which was then in the midst of its debate on the land bill which the Senate passed late last night, paused for half an hour to hear him and then took up its work of following the Senate's lead.

That the bill would pass tonight was predicted by both sides. Apparently the only circumstance which can prevent the carrying out of the bill's provisions within about ninety days is the threatened referendum petition which would require 20,000 signatures before the law could be temporarily nullified, pending an election. The matter could not be submitted to the people until the fall of 1914, a delay of nineteen months, in case the proposed referendum petition gained enough signatures.

Early in the session representatives of the board of directors of the Panama-Pacific exposition gave notice that the board would back a movement for the referendum against any anti-alien land bill that might pass. Recently several commercial bodies in larger cities have joined the exposition directors.

Secretary Bryan in his speech this afternoon gave renewed assurances of the friendly interest and cooperative attitude of the national administration toward the peculiar problem of California. He voiced the presidents opinion that the words "eligible to citizenship" substituted in the redraft of the bill for the words "ineligible to citizenship" are equally discriminatory and therefore equally objectionable to Japan. He urged that if a law must pass it be limited in operation to two years in order that meanwhile diplomacy might so improve the international situation that reenactment by the next legislature would be unnecessary. He said this suggestion has not yet reached the president and was made "for the consideration of those who have yet to act on the subject."

MUTILATED BODY FOUND ON RAILROAD TRACK

Body Believed to be That of R. C. Dunlap—None Saw the Accident

The mutilated body of R. C. Dunlap aged about twenty, was found in the railroad yards yesterday morning, about 200 yards south of the coal chute, a train evidently having struck the young man as he was walking or sitting on the track. The body was found by Ed Guthrie, member of a switching crew.

Up to last night efforts to locate relatives of the young man had been unsuccessful. The body was taken to the E. G. Hill undertaking parlors, from which the funeral will probably be held today.

The boy is believed to have relatives in the northern part of the county, probably near Electra, but efforts to get in touch with these had been unavailing up to last night.

Dunlap had been in the city several days, coming here last week with his younger brother. The latter had returned home.

Audrus Denied New Trial.

Houston, Texas, May 3.—William Audrus, president of the Audrus Abstract Co. at Richmond, who was given a ten year sentence for the killing of A. H. Slyke last June, was denied a new trial in the district court here today. His counsel gave notice of an appeal.

FIGHT AGAINST FREE WOOL FAIL

SCHEDULE PASSED WITHOUT AMENDMENT IN THE HOUSE SATURDAY

NO BREAK IN THE RANKS

Democrats Stand Together And Schedule Adopted by a Vote of 274 to 193

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 3.—The wool schedule was passed without amendment by the House today. It went through with little excitement. The republicans concentrated their attack on wool by presenting a blanket amendment as a substitute for the schedule. This substitute, prepared by Representative Payne, provided a rate of eighteen cents a pound on raw wool, which is on the free list in the Underwood bill, and providing comparative rates based on a duty of eighteen cents a pound on the wool in various stages of manufactured woolens.

The Republicans vociferously proclaimed their substitute to be in conformity with the report which the tariff commission made on the woolen schedules two years ago. The Democrats as emphatically declared it was not. Members representing wool growing states failed to materialize in opposition on the vote. The Republican substitute was defeated and the Underwood schedule was passed, 193 to 74.

With the silk, paper and sundry schedules still to be passed, Representative Underwood hurried the House ahead after the wool fight with the worst of the tariff wrangle out of the way. The Republican attack on the Democratic wool schedule was bitter. Republican Leader Mann said:

"Several years ago we Republicans provided for a tariff board; we propose to stand by the report of that board and present a woolen schedule based on the information secured by it. For years the woolen schedule has been in controversy and for the first time in the history of our tariff making, we propose a scientific woolen schedule and we will appeal to the country to support a tariff based on real information."

Mr. Mann pleaded for the support of the progressives "temporarily estranged from the Republican party, but soon to return to our ranks." On the vote the Progressives divided, some voting for and some against the bill.

"The Democratic party," Mr. Mann continued, "admits that this schedule means death to the wool growing industry in this country. One Democrat tells us that this bill will kill the sugar industry, another tells us it will kill a part of the cotton industry, another that some other industry will be ruined. We might get along if only the wool industry were slaughtered. We might do so if the cotton industry were sacrificed. We might get along if only one industry went down. But, to slaughter all these together, that can not be done and retain prosperity, although God knows I hope that prosperity will remain in the land and I feel sure that the people will soon return to that economic policy which insures prosperity."

Representative Underwood replied to Mr. Mann, declaring the Republicans themselves were not in harmony in support of the Payne amendment.

"You say that you are learning something from the tariff board about this schedule," he shouted at the Republicans, "you are learning that the sentiment of the American people is behind the Democratic party and this tariff bill."

Representative Mann asked whether the ways and means committee had not at first favored a duty on raw wool, but had "changed their minds at the request of the president?"

Mr. Underwood answered:

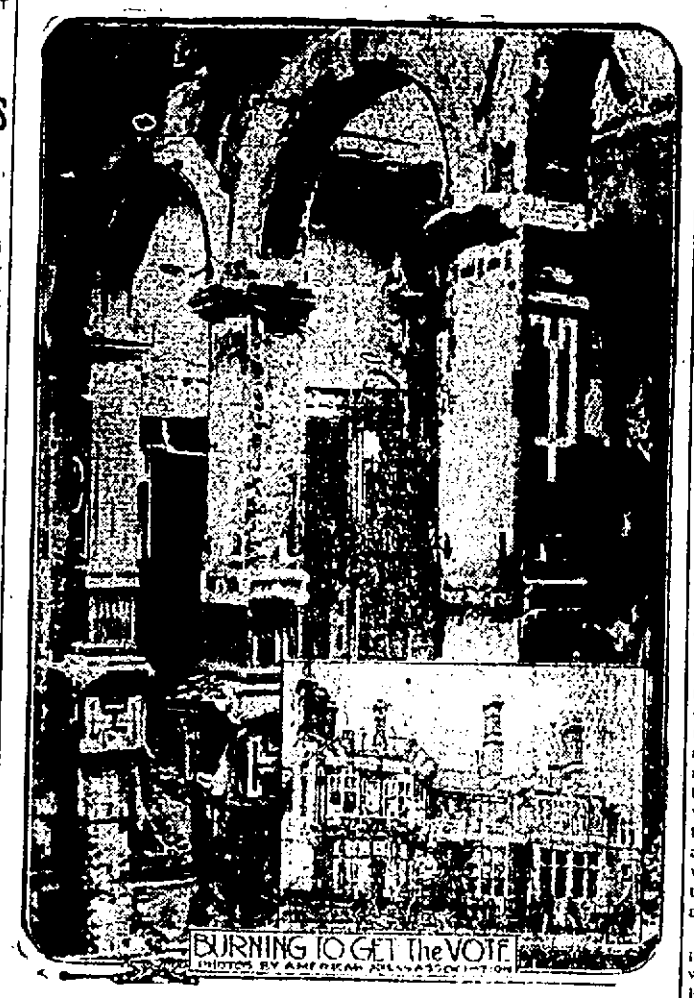
"Candidly, this bill originally was written with a duty of 15 per cent on raw wool, but the difference between your party and ours is, that we can get together and you can't."

As soon as the wool bill was passed, the House hurried through the silk schedule. A single committee amendment changing chiffons from 50 per cent to 60 per cent ad valorem was the only change made in this schedule.

GREAT BRITAIN RECOGNIZED HUERTA

Mexico City, May 3.—President Huerta was officially notified today of the recognition of his government by Great Britain. It is announced that a letter of recognition from King Alfonso of Spain will be presented next week.

Pictorial Evidence of Damage Done By English Arsonettes



Here is new pictorial evidence of the damage done by the militant suffragettes of England. The pictures show the ruins of the palatial residence of Arthur du Cros, member of parliament, situated at St. Leonards. After the fire suffragette literature was found on the grounds. The large view shows now the main hall was burned out. The smaller one shows the shell of the house still standing after the blaze.

Yesterday's dispatches tell of the burning of school buildings in Aberdeen, Scotland, by the Militants and the burning of train sheds at Bradford, England, where half a million dollars damage was done.

The torch and dynamite have become the favorite arguments of the Militant Suffragettes in their campaign to secure the ballot. Their acts are a striking contrast to the Belgian workmens' strike in which there was an entire absence of violence. In the latter strike the workmen won a signal victory within a week.

ATTEMPT MADE TO LYNCH WOMAN

SHERIFF AND MAYOR OUTWIT FRIENDS OF MAN SLAIN AT GARY, IND, WEDNESDAY

PLANS WERE CHANGED

Mob Lay in Wait for Street Car But Officers Carried Woman in Automobile

Crown Point, Indiana, May 3.—Mrs. Grace Smith, who shot and killed Clarence Murphy at Gary last Wednesday night, today escaped a threatened lynching at the hands of friends of the slain man, by the aid of Mayor Knotts and Chief of Police Neuman of Gary, who brought her here in an automobile. Murphy was a popular member of the local of the Switchmen's Union and when members of that order learned it was proposed to take his slayer to the county seat, they held a meeting, at which it was determined to lynch her or at least give her a coat of tar and feathers.

The mob made no secret of its intentions and decided to lay in wait for the interurban car, on which it had been intended to transfer the prisoner. To outwit the mob, the mayor and chief of police hurried the prisoner out of town in automobile. They were armed with rifles and pistols and were followed by several automobiles filled with curious spectators.

The change of route deceived the mob and the trip was made without incident.

TEXAS GIRL'S PICTURE ON NEW PAPER MONEY

New York, May 3.—Miss Evelyn James of San Antonio, an art student here is receiving congratulation as she is the girl whose portrait is likely to become more popular than any other girl. Her picture will be seen in nearly every American home as it will appear exclusively on Uncle Sam's paper money. Her picture was recently chosen for a decorative group on the reverse side of a new issue.

Miss James is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. James of San Antonio.

Militants Suspected of Burning Train Sheds

By Associated Press.

Bradford, England, May 3.—The extensive train sheds of the Midland Central Railway here together with much freight were burned early today causing a loss of half a million dollars. Nineteen loaded freight cars and an immense quantity of dry goods was destroyed.

Mysterious fires have broken out in the train sheds on three successive Friday nights. Militant suffragettes are supposed to be the arsons but there is no proof of the latter.

CUTTING OFF CURRENT DELAYS WORK ON PAPER

On account of the current being off for about an hour, following the electrocution of the Mexican band leader with the carnival company, last night, stopping the typesetting machines at The Times office it was necessary to curtail the amount of news in this morning's paper, which may be late in delivery. We are sure, however, that our patrons will excuse whatever the paper is short in news, as the current was cut off by the light company that other lives might not be endangered.

HEAVY RAINS OVER A WIDE TERRITORY

SCHOOL EXHIBIT PLEASES PATRONS

DISPLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY WAS INSTRUCTIVE EXPOSITION OF MODERN METHODS

INSPECTED BY MANY

Grown-ups Found Methods Very Different From Their School Days

The work of the public schools of this city was on display Friday afternoon at the High School, and a large number of mothers and patrons gathered there to inspect the exhibit. The display was a most interesting one, setting forth the work of the children in as much detail as was possible, and it was a source of much gratification to all who attended.

While much of the work done in the schools can not be shown in a concrete exhibit, enough of it was arranged for display Friday to afford an excellent idea of how the children are being taught. Everygrade from the first on through the High School, was represented. Grown-ups found that very different methods and ideas are followed today from those in vogue when they were in school, when the "three R's" constituted the sum and substance of school work.

Of particular interest was the display of the first and second grades, which was in the study hall at the High School. This included numerous examples of the way in which the children's hands are kept busy during school hours and the work was of a high order. It included paper mats, which the little ones had carefully measured, cut and arranged with painstaking care, some of which were really works of juvenile art. There were simple water color drawings, compositions describing pictures, also simple work in manual training, such as the making of paper lanterns, mats and the like. The first work in spelling and arithmetic was also shown, with examples of penmanship. At first the children are taught to write in large characters, then to gradually reduce the size to normal. A pretty feature of the first grade exhibit was a number of "Hiawatha" booklets, in which the main ideas of the poem was set forth, illustrated with canoes, Indian cradles and the like, which had been cut out and colored.

The second grade work was along the same general lines as the first, with descriptions of pictures cut-out work, drawing and the like. Here were also samples of the first work in numbers, with the first processes of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division shown. The first principles of letter writing are also taught in this grade and the general idea seems to be to teach the child to observe what is before it and develop its thought in that way.

The third grade exhibit showed work in water colors and pencil, with a beginning of the study of weights and measures in arithmetic, geography is also taught in this grade and some maps were on display showing excellent work by the pupils. The fourth grade takes up music, and the exhibit included letter writing, pencil drawing, and much work in manual work, among which were a number of relief maps of Texas and of North America, showing the mountain ranges, valleys, etc. Another interesting feature was the work in free hand physiological drawing, parts of the human body being sketched to give the pupils first ideas of human anatomy.

The exhibits of the upper grades included samples of drawing and penmanship by the pupils, but dealt more largely with examination papers and compositions. All through the lower grades the pupils apparently are giving simple manual work to fix such as the making of paper baskets, cutting out wall paper designs, making relief maps and work along similar lines.

The exhibit of the High School included much of the work of the manual training department, the boys turning out simple articles of furniture in the joining and turning departments. Some of the boys were at work on a boat when the visitors were shown through. The display of the domestic science department showing many samples of the needle work done by the girls, was also of much interest. In this department a number of young ladies served punch to visitors.

The entire exhibit is an interesting and instructive one, and affords a very comprehensive idea of what is being done in the public schools.

GENERAL PRECIPITATION IN EVERY DIRECTION FOR MORE THAN 100 MILES

TWO INCHES HERE

Reports Last Night Indicated One of of Most General Rains Since 1908

Starting at about six o'clock Saturday evening a rain that had already soaked Wichita Falls and the country around for more than a hundred miles in every direction was still falling at midnight, with indications at that hour of continuing on throughout the night.

While the government gauge was not accessible at that hour it was believed that more than two inches of rain had already fallen at midnight.

Reports from the railroad's dispatchers offices and Associated Press dispatches and telephone messages received at The Times office last night indicate that the rain was general.

The Fort Worth and Denver reported rain all the way from Fort Worth to Quanah, with the rain belt slowly extending northward. When the Wichita Valley offices closed last night at seven o'clock heavy rains had been reported from practically every station along that railroad. Stamford reported a precipitation of 2.75 inches at that hour, with a steady downpour then falling.

On the Wichita Falls Route good rains were reported at Olney and Newcastle early in the evening and a later report was that a hard rain was falling at Archer City.

At ten o'clock the rain had reached all points on the Wichita Falls and Northwestern as far north as Elk City. Reports from stations east along the Katy showed rains all the way to Whitesboro.

A telephone message from Ardmore early in the evening reported rain at that place. A good rain was falling at San Antonio this afternoon.

This is the third seasonable rain that has fallen within the last five or six weeks, coming at just the right time to be of immense benefit to the crops.

It is estimated that two-thirds of the wheat crop in this section is now in the boot, while the other third is already heading. The rain will assure the filling of the heads already forming and will be of still greater benefit to that portion of the crop not so far advanced.

While complaint has been made that heads are short if they are well filled with the stands that most fields have, a good yield will be made. The fields now in the boot will not only have longer heads, but the straw will be much taller.

Before the rain started yesterday evening black and threatening clouds rolled up from the western horizon and many went into storm cellars. There was no blow, however, and no damage from wind, hail or lightning has been reported from any point.

UNDERTAKER SUED FOR $20,000 DAMAGES

By Associated Press.

Dallas, May 3.—Suit for $20,000 damages against a local undertaking establishment was filed in the district court here this afternoon by Mrs. Francis Slayton, widow of J. W. Slayton, and her two sons. In her complaint she alleges that instead of burying Slayton's body, as they had contracted to do, the undertakers entered into a conspiracy with doctors at a medical college, by which they allowed the doctors to make various experiments with the body.

The petition further alleges that the burial was to have taken place at two o'clock on the afternoon of February 5th, but was delayed until five p. m. during which time surgeons removed the brains from the body and disembowled it, besides various other operations.

Mrs. Slayton also alleges that the bodies of three other men from the same institution were finally buried in the same coffin with Slayton's body.

PARIS DEFEATS LOCALS EASILY

DARKNESS AND RAIN CUT GAME TO ONLY FIVE INNINGS

BUT IT WAS SUFFICIENT

Visitors Hit Covington Hard, While Kerr Holds Locals Safe—Many Scores Don't Count

In the first place the farmers need the rain and in the second place it wasn't much of a ball game any how so nobody's feelings were very badly hurt yesterday afternoon in the sixth inning when Umpire Wright decided that it was too dark to play any more and called the game, rain followed soon

Although the Paris lads made the circuit of the bases an even dozen times, the score officially stands 6 to 2 in favor of Paris Their last six runs do not count because the inning was never completed Wichita Falls failing to bat in her half of the sixth Paris had made a runaway affair of it in the first of the sixth and the extra base hits that were recorded will figure in the boys batting averages but not in the record of this particular game

It wasnt hard to see, looking at yesterdays game where all those games went on the road So far as yesterday's affray figures, the Drillers were simply up against a superior bunch of ball players The Parisians landed on Covington almost at will, clouting the ball to all four corners of the lot while in the field they played a fast heady game Kerr seemed to have everything that was needed and kept the bases cleared until the fifth inning

Covington started for the locals and was hit hard Baxter, who replaced him in the uncounted sixth inning was promptly initiated when the first two batters landed for home runs and he evidently needs more working out

Fans got their first look at some of the new material that has been added to the payroll on the road and the new men for the most part failed to enthuse Lawson started in the first inning by dropping one in left field Hornbuckle behind the bat, did better and the stolen bases were not altogether his fault

Ker had the locals completely on his hip for the first four frames, but they got to him in the fifth and might have done some further damage had the game lasted longer, lots of good it would have done too after Paris had made a race track of that diamond The scoring started for the visitors in the first inning when, with one out Webber camped on second after Lawson had dropped his fly Nagle flied out to left but Mathis sent a clean single over the infield scoring Webber, Mathis stole second and scored on Robertsons Texas leaguer Robertson was caught trying to steal

Two more were added in the second when Harper singled, was sacrificed by Carey and scored on Moore's long double Moore scored when Shell failed to handle Daly's drive The visitors were blanked in the third but in the fourth Kerr dropped one over left field fence after Moore had singled That ended the scoring for the visitors so far as the official count goes in spite of their runaway performance in the sixth

The Drillers were one-two three out until the fifth Then Lawson singled and was forced, Covington fanned but Shell sent the ball over the fence driving Phillips around ahead of him Hornbuckle and White each singled and things looked good for a real rally but Nevitt fanned and the side went out The score

TRIED TO CUT WIRE; KILLED

JOSEPH LEGMA LEADER MEXICAN BAND WITH CARNIVAL ELECTROCUTED

DEATH WAS INSTANTANEOUS

Musician Was Trying to Disconnect Wire at Tent When Killed

Jose Legura leader of the Mexican band in the Nigro and Loos carnival was instantly killed last night when the heavy voltage of an electric light wire passed through his body as he was trying to cut the wire with a pair of steel nippers Death was instantaneous the musician falling to the damp ground instantly

Last night was the last night of the carnival's engagement here and the rain caused the show men to move as much of their equipment as possible to the cars Legura's small tent had been dismantled and he desiring to disconnect the electric current which furnished him light thought that to cut the connecting wire would be the quickest method Accordingly, he borrowed a pair of large steel nippers from one of the show men the latter not being aware of his purpose In full view of a number of carnival folk Legura stood on the rain soaked ground and reached up and seized the wire with the nippers As the blades cut through the insulation the current passed into the musician's body He threw up his hands fell convulsively to the ground and a moment later lay still

Those who saw him fall ran to him but he already was apparently beyond human aid The body was removed to the Hill undertaking establishment, from which it will probably be buried today.

Legura had been leader of his band for three years and had been with Nigro and Loos for over a year His home was in Guadalajara Mexico He was popular with his fellow musicians, in whose eyes tears glistened as they told of the incident

Only Friday Legura had been initiated into the local lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose and that order will probably take charge of the remains After the accident the current was cut off from the down town circuit and stores and restaurants were in darkness until after midnight by which time the break was repaired and the current resumed

OIL FIELD NEWS

The Producers Oil company has resumed drilling on the Workmeister brothers well about seven miles west of the Ferguson where a promising showing was encountered at 1410 feet This location is far in advance of production on all sides and the showing is considered very encouraging

The well of the Marcus Oil company is now pumping 2 barrels a day and the stockholders are making arrangements to drill another well it is said This well failed to find anything in the deeper sands and is now finding that the shallower sand was much better than was thought when it was first encountered

Information from Producers No 12 drillers at Petrolia is that it put over 800 barrels in the tank the first 24 hours on the pump and while it is ranked as a 1000 barrel well by the enthusiasts it is probably in the 600 barrel class which is considered mighty good for Petrolia This well following the Developers recent good finds is causing the talent to look a little more closely at the Clay county section of the field

What's known as the gin lot well at Petrolia will be drilled in tomorrow This well was put down by local people and the outcome is awaited with interest

State of Texas, Wichita County. To those indebted to or holding claims against the estate of G. Y. Smith, deceased:

The undersigned having been duly appointed administratrix of the estate of G. Y. Smith, deceased, with the will annexed, by the Judge of the County Court of Wichita County, Texas, on the 11th day of April, 1913, during a regular term of said court hereby notifies all persons indebted to said estate to come forward and make settlement, and those having claims against said estate to present them to her at her residence in Wichita Falls Texas, where she receives her mail this the 3rd day of May, A. D. 1913.

GEORGIA C. SMITH,
Administratrix of Estate of G. Y. Smith, deceased, with Will annexed.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon J. J. Mullins and the unknown heirs of J. J. Mullins by making publication of this Citation once in each week for eight successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Wichita County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Wichita Falls, on the first Monday in June, A. D. 1913, the same being the second day of June, A. D. 1913, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 5th day of April, A. D. 1913 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 4561, wherein J. P. Lynch, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Church of the Dallas Diocese, State of Texas, and Trustee of the church of the Sacred Heart at Wichita Falls, Texas and the Roman Catholic Church of the Sacred Heart at Wichita Falls, Texas, are plaintiffs, and J. J. Mullins and the unknown heirs of Mullins are defendants, and said petition alleging that on or about the [illegible] day of December, 1907, plaintiff was and is now lawfully seized and possessed of the following described lands and premises, situated in the County of Wichita, State of Texas, holding and claiming the same in fee simple, to-wit:

Five acres of land out of the Simpson Holloway Survey, Patent No. 21, Vol. No. 26, Certificate No. 1045, situated about two miles west of Wichita Falls, in Wichita County, Texas, described by metes and bounds as follows: Beginning at a point 912.6 varas North and 1171.6 varas west of the Southeast corner of said Simpson-Holloway Survey; Thence South 237.6 varas; Thence West 181.8 varas; to a stake in the West line of said Simpson Holloway Survey; Thence North with its west line 237.6 varas a stake; Thence East 181.8 varas to the place of beginning. That on the day and year last aforesaid, to wit December 11th, 1907, plaintiff acquired said land by deed of conveyance from W. Hund by which he conveyed to E. J. Dunn for the benefit of the said Roman Catholic Church for a cemetery in the said County of Wichita and State of Texas, the said land. That said deed was immediately filed for record in the office of the County Clerk of Wichita County, Texas, to-wit: on the 1st day of February, 1908, and was on said date duly recorded in the Deed Records of Wichita County, Texas. That since said time, to-wit: the 11th day of December, 1907, the plaintiffs and Trustee beneficiary, claiming the same under said deed, duly registered, has had peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of said land and tenements hereinabove described, occupying, using and enjoying the same and paying all the taxes thereon for a period of more than 5 years, and claiming the same under said deed by limitation of five years.

Plaintiffs further claim through a deed from W. Hund who also claims through deed from Theodore F. Reed dated Feb. 14th, 1902, and by statute of limitations of ten years all the right, title and interest of said land against the defendants, which title he now asserts and alleges as his claim to recover the land sued for.

The defendant J. J. Mullins and his unknown heirs are asserting some kind of right, title and interest in said land, which they claim through a deed from H. L. and J. S. Lennox executed in favor of the said J. J. Mullins on Feb. 5th, 1887, the said J. J. Mullins claiming under deed from A. Schultz, dated August 3rd, 1886. That on the first day of April, 1913, the defendants unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom and set up an unlawful claim to said land and unlawfully withholds same from plaintiff's possession to his damage in the sum of Ten Dollars.

Wherefore plaintiffs pray that citation be published in some newspaper in the County of Wichita, State of Texas, be issued to said defendants and that said citation be published in a newspaper in said County of Wichita, State of Texas, as the law directs, citing the said J. J. Mullins and his unknown heirs to appear and answer this petition and that upon final hearing hereof, plaintiff have judgment for the title and possession of said land and premises and that writ of ffectitution issue and a decree quieting plaintiffs in his title to said land and for such other further relief, both special and general, in law and in equity that he be justly entitled to.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, A. F. Kerr, Clerk of the District Court of Wichita County.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court at office in Wichita Falls Texas this the 5th day of April, A. D. 1913.

A. F. KERR, Clerk
District Court, Wichita County.

LAST TRIBUTE PAID REV. R. R. HAMLIN

Throng That Overflowed Church Gathered For Funeral Friday Afternoon

Funeral services for the late Rev. Robert R. Hamlin, former pastor of the Christian Church, were held Friday afternoon at the church building, where a throng that filled the structure to overflowing gathered to pay their final tribute. Hundreds of those who had known and loved Brother Hamlin during his term of service here were present to do silent honor to his memory, and the gathering paid him tribute by its very numbers.

Pastors of other churches took part in the funeral services, Rev. F. F. Walters, Rev. I. L. McKee and Rev. J. P. Boone each making brief remarks. W. H. H. Thatcher a veteran member of the Christian church, also spoke. Prayer was offered by Rev. J. L. McFadden.

Burial was in Riverside cemetery and a long concourse followed the funeral cortege to its final resting place. The grave was hidden beneath the floral tributes, which were numerous and beautiful, many coming from the late Tennessee home of the departed pastor.

The music consisted of selections which were favorites of Brother Hamlin. The choir sang "Asleep in Jesus," "My Final Farewell" and "Standing on His Promises," while John W. Bradley sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

The pall bearers had been chosen from among the officers of the church, including L. C. Tyson, W. H. H. Thatcher, J. B. Jones, A. R. Prothro, J. W. Bradley and J. L. Downing.

Well there is one thing about it if Mr. Lane withdraws from the gubernatorial race it will be through no fault of the anti press, which hopes again to run a strong anti against several pro candidates next year.—Denton Record and Chronicle.

Our statesmen of presidential size and aspirations are seemingly a little bit slow about joining the goat family and are not "butting in" to any great extent on that California alien land law muddle which seemingly is causing Japan to throw a few fits.

Another splendid rain last night which makes it certain that a good wheat and oat crop will be harvested. But, according to the way some of our leading citizens of the state argue it, the more farm products that are produced the less the farmer gets for his trouble and labor. But all the same, we in this country want to see good crops, and without rain good crops cannot be produced.

We are told by Vice President Marshall that there are quite a number of government jobs carrying with them salaries from $10,000 to $20,000 waiting for the capable man, and today's Washington dispatches tell us that Chairman McCombs of the Democratic National Committee, has took passage on an ocean going vessel to avoid the fellows who are seeking these offices.

Questions and problems that have been bothering and bursting the brains of our greatest statesmen are now being settled most finally and forever almost nightly one way or the other in debating contests now being held at various places throughout the state. "The Tariff," "The Income Tax," "Woman's Suffrage" are three particular problems that are being debated. Of course, they are not always settled the same way, but that makes no difference to the participants—now our high school pupils, who later in life will probably not be greatly surprised to find that the problems of state which they had figured out and settled to their own satisfaction in the days of their youth, are still unsettled. But what's the difference anyhow? If all these great problems of state were solved all in a lump life would be dull and hardly worth the living. Let the debates proceed. They furnish something for the newspapers to fill up on, and incidentally, those who lead in the contests generally get their pictures in the Dallas News or some other state paper, and that's a distinction that most boys crave at least until they find out they are not quite so good looking as they imagined they were.

SCHOLASTIC CENSUS

In Wichita Falls during this month there must be taken according to law a scholastic census, in which will be included the names of those persons who will be over seven and under seventeen years of age on September 1, 1913. The census is not, as seems to be imagined by some, an enumeration of children who purpose to attend the public school, but on the contrary a census of population, in which all persons within the ages stated, including the blind, deaf and dumb, and even the feeble minded are intended to be enlisted.

The Constitution of Texas ordains that the annual proceeds of the permanent school fund shall be apportioned in every county according to population, and any resident of Wichita Falls who fails to render the names of all persons within the ages fixed diverts from Wichita Falls to some other locality the per capita amount of the State apportionment.

All residents of the City entitled to render the names of persons who should be included in the census are requested to prepare in advance lists of names and dates of birth of their children who are of scholastic age.

Every effort will be made to take the census required by law with as little inconvenience to citizens as possible. The enumerators will cheerfully call twice if need be to receive the necessary information.

The law requires that when the census taker fails to find at home the parents or a parent, or any person having legal control, a note shall be left requiring that a certain prescribed form shall be filled out and delivered to the census trustee. Failure to do this may, under the law, be judged a misdemeanor, subjecting the guilty parent to a fine from five to ten dollars.

The cooperation of all citizens is sought to the end that this city may secure the apportionment to which its population entitles it.

GEO. H. CARPENTER,
Superintendent

Pythian om vs. Negligence

Some one has told you that the Knights of Pythias Lodge in Wichita Falls was dormant, and you believed it, without making investigation. You do not know the many little acts of kindness that has been shown to a fellow being, in the name of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence, you never see the silent hand clasp, given to some unfortunate brother. You never read the messages to bereaved wives, sisters and daughters because you are too busy chasing the dollar and listening to the voices of the unfaithful. The trouble with the lodge in Wichita Falls, as far as you are concerned is, that you have forgotten your obligation, you have been unfaithful to the trust reposed in you and think all the members have, but should you be in possession of all your faculties you would know, as you once knew, that the hand of charity is still extended by the ever faithful few. Come to the Castle Hall, next Thursday night. You don't know how to work your way into the Castle, but the keeper will be instructed to at least be courteous to you.

WEIDMAN QUITS THE WALL PAPER BUSINESS

After Eighteen Years of Successful Trade J. H. Weidman Disposes of Stock

After eighteen years in the paint window glass and wall paper trade and business in Wichita Falls J. H. Weidman has retired and will devote his attention to his other interests in Wichita Falls. Mr. Weidman last night made the following statement:

"Having sold my stock and business to W. S. Robertson and company I have discontinued my paint, window glass and wall paper business, and beginning tomorrow the stock will be moved to the new store on Ohio Avenue.

"All accounts are due me and I will discharge all the indebtedness of the old firm.

In closing my business I wish to thank the people of Wichita Falls and vicinity for their very liberal patronage, and it gives me pleasure to recommend the new firm to my patrons. I know personally Mr. Robertson and Mr. Johnson who is associated with him to be men of high integrity and courteous gentlemen and that they will be prepared to fill your needs very satisfactorily.

For Average Figures

So many of our customers of average figure are wearing style 907 with such satisfaction that we strongly recommend this model. This is a Henderson Corset of the latest style and best construction.

The illustration of this style shown here, is an exact representation of the fashionable, natural lines that it gives to the figure. It fits perfectly and can be worn with comfort and ease. The longest wearing service is assured because of the excellent construction of this model.

Style 907 has medium bust; a deep, soft skirt extension controls the superfluous flesh; it is daintily trimmed with embroidery; and there are three pairs of strong supporters attached. Price $2.00.

This is one of the many Henderson Corsets that we are offering for the approval of our customers. A large assortment of the latest styles is here for your selection.

MRS. McCONKEY HOSTESS TO WOODMEN CIRCLE

The ladies of the W. O. W. Circle were delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. James McConkey, 1509 Travis Street. There were a good number present and the program for the afternoon was a complete success in every detail. Several games were played. Those winning prizes were: Mrs. W. H. Duffy a beautiful cake plate, Mrs. McDowel winning the booby prize, a rattler. Several other ladies were present besides the Circle members, and we hope they will meet with us again. Refreshments of cream and cake were served by the hostess, with the assistance of Mrs. Womack and Mrs Scott, and all enjoyed themselves immensely. This was the beginning of a series of such entertainments that we expect to have in the future.

MRS. ALEX KAHN HOSTESS SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Alex Kahn was a gracious hostess at her beautiful home on Austin Avenue Saturday afternoon, when she entertained at Five Hundred. There were eleven tables of players and the entertainment was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. The beauty of this palatial home was enhanced by decorations of red and white carnations and potted ferns and blooming plants, making the rooms veritable bowers of beauty.

Punch was served the players as the games progressed by Misses Lillian Avis, Lillian Fain and Thelma Kahn, and at the conclusion of the play an ice course in pink and white with red and white carnations as favors was served.

The prize for the afternoon, a pretty cut glass napple, went to Mrs Harry May.

The guests included: Mesdames E. L. Smith, M. M. Walker, Little Mays, J. D. White, McNeill, E. P. Greenwood, Mytinger, R. E. Huff Orlopp, E. E. Sanders, W. H. Walker Sheppard, Strause, Darnell, R. C. HADDIX-STANLEY WEDDING ANNOUNCED.

The wedding of A. Paul Haddix and Miss Tom Stanley which took place last Saturday evening has been announced, somewhat to the surprise of the friends of these young people. The ceremony was performed by Rev J. P. Boone. The bride is a sister of Mrs. G. A. Wilfong of this city, her parents residing in Abilene where her father is pastor of the Methodist Church. The groom is a well known young man of this city. Mr and Mrs Haddix are making their home with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Haddix on Seventh street.

RECEPTION TO MEET MRS. RALPH MAXWELL DARNELL

One of the prettiest and certainly one of the most delightful receptions ever held in Wichita aFlls was that given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs J. T. Montgomery, Tenth and Burnett streets, when in response to invitations more than a hundred Wichita Falls ladies came to meet Mrs. Ralph Maxwell Darnell, bride of the hostess' brother and a charming daughter of a prominent Tulsa family.

In the cordiality of the welcome extended the bride to her new home by the flower of Wichita Falls society the beauty of the decorations of this home of quiet elegance, the handsomely gowned women, and the harmony with which the affair was carried out left nothing to be desired. It was indeed a happy greeting to the new bride.

The rooms were beautiful with trailing vines and roses and carnations effecting a combination of white and pink, in compliment to the bride. These were arranged seemingly without order yet with an art that made their effect the more pleasing. And so it was throughout the reception, formality being absent and in its place a delightful cordiality.

The lower floors of the home were enjoyed and in groups here and there were those assisting in receiving the guests.

In the hall were Mrs. A. H. Carrillan and Mrs. Wiley Robertson; in the parlor front Mrs. Montgomery, the hostess with the bride, and Mrs. W. H. Walker, Mrs. Wiley Blair, Mrs. P. P. Langford, Mrs. T. T. Reese, Mrs. Newton Maer, Mrs. M. D. Walker and Mrs. C. C. Huff.

Others assisting in the receiving were Mesdames DuVal, Richolt, Walsh Campbell, Gorsline, Bruce Greenwood, Noble, Donald, Darnell, Miss Lucile Sherrod, Mesdames Zundelowitz, Allen, Berney, Burnside, McGregor, Young, Scoville, R. E. Huff, Fields and Hall.

At the punch bowl in the library were Miss Lillian McGregor and Mrs. Scoville.

Invitations to the dining room where brick cream and cake and mints in the prevailing colors, pink and white, were served with favors of beautiful carnations, given by Mrs. H. B. Patterson and Mrs. G. D. Anderson.

Those assisting in the serving were Mrs. Shepperd, Miss Vivian Mathis, Miss Jewell Kemp, Miss Esther Gorsline, Miss Agnes Reid and Miss Lillian Avis.

The hours of the reception were from 3 to 4, 4 to 5 and 5 to 6.

During the afternoon Katz orchestra discoursed sweet strains.

The bride with her graciousness and charm and quiet dignity won instant favor with all who met her.

MRS. D. J. WHITE HOSTESS TO WEDNESDAY BRIDGE CLUB.

Members of the Wednesday Bridge Club enjoyed their first morning session of the season at the home of Mrs. D. J. White Wednesday when four tables of players took part in very interesting games.

Decorations of cut flowers and the brightness of the morning gave an added zest to the play, and the enjoyment of the occasion.

The club favor, a hand-painted plate went to Mrs. E. L. Smith and the guest prize, a pretty novelty basket, to Miss Dola White.

An ice course in pink and white was served.

Club members present were: Mesdames Frank Cullinan, H. O. Cravens, E. P. Greenwood, E. L. Smith, F. W. Griffin, R. G. Smith, Fred Weeks, T. B. Smith, Leon Loeb, N. L. Inge and Miss Dent. The guests were: Mrs. R. P. Webb, Mrs. Paschal Carnes, Fort Worth, Mrs. Wade Walker and Mrs. Wiley Blair and the Misses Iclo and Dola White.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Fred Weeks.

ANNUAL BANQUET LADIES' AUXILIARY OF O. R. C.

More than seventy-five guests attended the annual banquet to the members of the O. R. C. and friends given by the Ladies Auxiliary of that organization at the Moose hall Tuesday night and enjoyed the entertainment that preceded the banquet as well as the banquet itself to their capacity.

The entertainment was opened with a musical program including the following numbers:

Piano solo—Miss Mary Smith.

Vocal duet—Mesdames Langford and Stearns.

Vocal duet—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith.

Vocal solo—Miss Hazel Hurst.

Following the musical numbers and old fashioned spelling match was organized with Mr. Langford and Mrs. Hurst as captains. The words were taken from the old Blue Backed Speller and when the banquet was announced there were eight spellers still standing. Following the Flower Song march the guests marched to the spacious hall where a splendid menu was served.

Following the banquet the hall was cleared and dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

An electric piano has been installed on the dancing floor at the Lake pavilion and parties desiring to dance there may secure good music by this means. The piano's music is loud enough for dancing and dances may be held on short notice without having to employ an orchestra. 2 7tp

LIVED LONGER THAN SHE HAD CALCULATED

Severe Economics Would Not Stretch Scant Hoard to End and Baroness Suicided

Paris, May 3.—Baroness de Howen, bereft of family and friends, spent her last sou for bread, and then quietly committed suicide. She left a note for the police saying:

"One has a right to die at eighty, when one has no kin, no friends, and when one can no longer live."

Inquiries disclosed that the old lady had lived for a generation in a little room on the ground floor, with a window looking out on the avenue Wagram, in the wealthy Etoile quarter of Paris. Through the always open casement the neighbors were accustomed to see her busy in the morning with household work; in the afternoon her habit was to sit at her table reading. She seemed very old, but she had retained something of her youthful figure, and she carried her head with its crown of white hair with grace. The neighbors were all agreed that she had been "somebody," although no one knew her title. What puzzled passers-by was to see on a chair near the window a wreath of artificial flowers. She had kept them all the years for her death.

The Baroness was the daughter of a man rich and distinguished in the first quarter of the 19th century. When ruin came upon her family she took the little money left and allotted it to her weekly expenses, calculating that it would last a life time. But she lived some years beyond her expectations, and foreseeing this she began severe economies. In order to eat she gave up dressing suitably, and for years never went out of doors. She had no debts, and her last copper piece had gone for a roll the night before she killed herself.

"Thirty-Six" $1950. Fully equipped. F. o. b. Detroit

You Can Buy

an automobile for less than the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" price, but you cannot get Chalmers "Thirty-Six" features and qualities in that automobile....

We mean that. And we can prove it.

For any less price than $1950 you can't get, for instance, a four forward speed transmission and all ground gears. Four forward speeds mean utmost flexibility. All ground gears mean freedom from noise, friction, wear. Insist on a four forward-speed transmission. Once you have used this wonderful improvement you will never be satisfied to drive a three-speed car.

You can't get, for less than the "Thirty-Six" price, a motor of equal quality. Big and sturdy, with 4 1-4 inch bore and 5 1-4 inch stroke, this motor delivers to the driving wheels full 36 actual horse power—day in, day out, summer and winter. It hangs on.

For less money, than $1950, you can't equal the "Thirty-Six" convenience; Chalmers compressed air self-starter; Gray & Davis electric lighting system; power tire inflater; demountable rims; carburetor dash adjustment.

Comfort equal to that of the "Thirty-Six" you can't possibly secure for less than the "Thirty-Six" price. In fact, we doubt if you can get the same complete restfulness in any car—at even higher prices. Turkish cushions and 11-inch upholstery; long wheel base (118 inches); big wheels and tires (36x4 inches); long, flexible springs—make Chalmers riding a delight.

For less than the Chalmers price you inevitably get less than the Chalmers quality. It pays to buy good quality at the start. Don't try to "save" money at the cost of permanent satisfaction.

Let us show you the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" today.

CLOSE CONTRACT FOR EXTENSION

TWO MILES NEW STREET CAR LINE WILL BE BUILT TO EASTERN AND SOUTHERN SECTION

COMPLETED BY SEPT. 1

New Addition Close In To City Will be Opened Up in the Near Future

Messrs. R. E. Huff, J. S. Bridwell, C. W. Bean, W. H. Downing and Ed. Wilson, the committee that has been working to secure an extension of the street car line in the eastern and southern parts of the city, have closed a contract for the building of approximately two miles additional line, to be completed by September 1st, 1913, and for which the committee are to pay the Wichita Falls Traction Company a subsidy of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000.) The new line will run through a densely settled section of the city, along Lamar Avenue and Sixteenth and Seventeenth Streets; thence through the W. H. Spivey addition and the new Southland addition south of the city, owned by R. E. Huff of this city and C. F. Collins of St. Louis, Mo., and thence later to a connection with the lake line, but the exact location west of the Archer City road has not yet been determined, but, possibly across that road near the B. F. Dutton residence, formerly the W. A. McCutchen home.

The committee extend their thanks to the citizens who have assisted in the subsidy, and say that with but few exceptions those to be benefitted have responded liberally.

It is the plan of the Southland Addition people to build about two miles of sewers and have the street car line ready for operation before offering these lots for sale. It is quite likely, also, that they will build considerable sidewalks if suitable arrangements can be made with responsible contractors to that end.

Lying immediatey south of the city, well located and nearer than any other vacant property now being offered, the new addition should prove very popular. . . .

Its owners have not yet completed all of their plans, but it is quite likely that the sale of the lots in this new addition will be in charge of one of the leading real estate firms of the city, and that all reputable real estate firms desiring to do so will be authorized to sell this property.

When we consider that originally, by the terms of its franchise, the Wichita Falls Traction Company only obligated itself to build two miles of track, it will be seen that the new additional mileage contracted for equals that first provided for by the City Council.

This new contract is conditional upon the City Council granting a franchise to use the streets mentioned, but no trouble is anticipated on that score.

The new contract provides that the cars run on this new line shall run down town and along Ohio and Indiana Avenues, as other cars now run, and that passenger fare on said new line shall be the same as between points on the old line, with right of passengers to transfer to or from any part of the present line that can be reached by payment of one fare. Service shall also be maintained for as many hours in the twenty-four as in any other part of the city.

(In memory of our former pastor, Rev. R. R. Hamlip)

A noble man has left us,
To dwell with God on high.
Let us try to be as ready
When our time draweth nigh.

Our dear brother had gone
From our little western berg;
He was an able pastor
To teach God's holy word.

He was so kind and gentle,
His flock here loved him well.
Now our dear Father in heaven
Has called him home to dwell.

I know his church will miss
That kind and pleasant smile,
And the hearty hand clasp he gave
To every erring child.

We sympathize sincerely
With his faithful, loving wife,
As the clouds have gathered o'er her
And darkened her very life.

The clouds had hardly drifted
To show a ray of sun,
Two years ago in May
She lost a darling one.

But the Savior is always ready
To heal the broken heart,
When the Father calls our loved ones
And from them we are compelled to part

We know your heart is stricken,
Your soul bowed down in grief
'Tis Jesus, Sister Hamlip,
Alone can give relief.

AMERICAN TEACHERS SAIL FOR PHILIPPINES

Eighty-Five Left San Francisco Yesterday Under Two-Year Contract With Government

San Francisco, Cal., May 3—There sailed from this port for Manila yesterday on the steamer Magnolia eighty-five American men and women teachers. This number was selected from a large eligible list certified by the United States Civil Service commission as having the necessary education and experience and having passed the required examination for the Philippine teaching service.

They came from nearly every state in the union, representing some of the best universities, colleges and normal schools in this country. Most of them are college graduates, some have done graduate work in the universities, and others have pursued technical courses preparing them to take charge of agricultural work, manual training and trade school work and domestic science.

A fact not generally known is that the average term of service of American teachers in the Philippines is nearly six years, almost a year longer than the average service of teachers in this country.

Those sailing from here yesterday to go to the Philippines were under a two-year contract. This contract is made to enable the government to ascertain whether or not the teacher will succeed in the new field and also to give the teacher a chance to find out whether or not there is a sufficient future to the service to warrant him in remaining. That there are only eighty-five vacancies this year out of nearly seven hundred positions for American teachers in the service indicates, as several of the teachers who sailed yesterday say, that those already on the ground have the greatest faith in the future of the educational work in the Islands

Those teachers say that their salary, as well as all the expenses of the trip, is paid from Philippine revenue, that the federal government pays no part of the cost of education in the Philippines, notwithstanding the fact that nearly three and a half million dollars are spent each year on the schools of the Islands

When these teachers sailing on the Mongolia yesterday get ready to return to the United States, either on leave of absence or by resignation at the end of two or three years of service, the Philippine government will pay them, in addition to salary up to the last day of service, an amount of money sufficient to pay their transportation home, either via Europe or the Pacific, and they all say they expect to take advantage of the opportunity to come home through Europe.

The trip to the Philippines from here will take about a month, as the Mongolia is one of the best passenger steamers on the Pacific coast and stops en route at Honolulu, Yokohoma, Kobe, Nagasaki, Shanghai and Hong Kong, remaining from one to three days in each port, thus enabling the passengers to see something of the Orient before reaching Manila

The departure of a large passenger steamer from this port for Manila is always an event to those interested in our efforts in the Philippines, but when she takes with her such a large body of young and enthusiastic educators as did the Mongolia yesterday, it means much in our program of giving to the Orient the very best we have in the way of opportunity

All About Fat.

Fannie Merritt Farmer, cookery Editor of the Woman's Home Companion, writes about "Good Croquettes and Fritters" in the May issue of that periodical She gives ten recipes preceded by the following general comment.

"When frying in deep fat take great care that the fat is of the right temperature The rules for testing fat for frying are (1) When the fat begins to smoke drop in an inch cube of bread cut from the crumb of the loaf, and if in forty seconds the bread is of a golden brown color, the fat is just right for frying any cooked mixture (2) Use the same test for uncooked mixtures, but allow one minute for the bread to brown

Picking Up After the Men Folks

A woman made the following address to the May Women's Home Community

We do not a woman's work in the home to lighten the self sacrifice of men folks but to relieve them of other cares that would just take care of their own personal comfort in life

It is not a little more than to do what a man has accomplished it must be done every day and often several times a day If we keep the rooms neat and tidy We can't expect our children to hang up their clothes or hang them in their places instead of leaving them for sister to pick up? I have not been able to train husband father or brother to do it What I suggest is that all mothers begin with the boy when he is very young and teach him to put his belongings in the proper place instead of picking up after him as she usually does Because—Oh well he's the boy I the girls are taught to be neat why not the boys? It would save the mothers and sisters extra work and later on the wives I have mention of this to people who have said When you're older you'll find out it isn't a man's nature to do more of his things It's a woman's place to do that I think it just as sensible as the talk that a boy must sow his wild oats but a girl is not forgiven her sins If mothers would teach little boys to be tidy then the men would be neat and orderly

MARKETING IS CHIEF PROBLEM

PRESIDENT RADFORD OF FARMERS' UNION FINDS LEADERS FOLLOWING UNION

PRODUCTION TOO GREAT

When a Big Crop Brings Less Than Smaller One it Is Time to Call a Halt

(Peter Radford, President of Farmers' Union)

Fort Worth, Texas, May 3.—In attending the Chicago and Richmond agricultural conventions it was most encouraging to see assembled many of the brightest minds of the Nation and to find the leaders of public thought throughout the country admitting the farmers' problems to be marketing and rural credits. The sentiment expressed and the plans discussed were in no way in advance of the methods of the Farmers' Union, but were rather copied from them. The business men of the nation are, as a rule, cooperating with the farmers in the solution of their problems along practical lines and the agricultural interests are given a voice in their councils.

I fully realize that I could perhaps not select a duller subject than practical agriculture. I well know that fancy farming is the writer's delight, the orator's inspiration and the dreamer's vision and he who dares to take a subject nestled among the stars, and pull it down through the ethereal atmosphere where eagles scream and star spangled banners proudly wave, until it touches mother earth, does so at the expense of being considered brutal, stupid and materialistic, but I speak in the interest of men who farm for a living and as the official head of an association of men who follow the plow and who are organized to promote the material welfare of the farmer. We cannot eat star-dust, wear dreams or live on poetry and we are therefore, compelled to approach this subject from a practical viewpoint.

In this article I crave the attention of men who live in cities who wield the hammer, who toil behind the counter, who study and manage affairs and whose backs have felt the rod of experience and whose flights of fancy have been arrested by actual transactions.

Texas Farmer Surfeiting in Production

The Texas farmer is starving although surrounded by plenty. A rather startling statement—but nevertheless true. He is not starving for things he can raise; in fact, he is surfeiting in production, but he has not the price of comforts, conveniences and advantages of modern life. He can, of course, produce all the necessities and many of the luxuries of life on the farm and so long as he is satisfied to live as animals live, he need not go further in his study than production, but the moment ambition flashes over his soul and his heart becomes possessed with a yearning for a higher life, he wants a market and without it he is forced back into the lower regions of civilization. It is only in extending, enlarging and creating avenues of distribution and in coordinating supply with demand that we can build the farm. Before discussing co-operative plans of marketing, I want to reinforce my suggestion that markets are the keynote of prosperity in agriculture.

I am a farmer and I fully realize that I am placed at a disadvantage in addressing a city audience. The Texas farmer has often been introduced to business men by well meaning, but misguided, friends of agriculture as delinquent, incompetent and incapable of comprehending his own problems, that I deem it advisable to temporarily withdraw from this discussion and call to the platform men who live in cities and who have the confidence of the business men of the State. It is embarrassing to retire under such circumstances, but I know you will all appreciate my position.

Judge Lindsey's View

Judge S. A. Lindsey of Tyler, member of the Executive Committee of the Texas Industrial Congress, Chairman of the Farm Life Commission and recognized as one of the ablest students of economics in the South said:

"The trouble is the man in the city thinks that production is the whole thing and his interest in the farmer stops with production. This the farmer resents and justly so. Again the consumer must look to large production as his only hope for cheaper prices, but according to my way of thinking, the greatest problem before this Nation today is the question of proper system of marketing and a system of finances best suited to the farmer's needs."

Col. Frank P. Holland of Dallas, Chairman of the National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits, said:

"Why make two blades grow where one grew before when you can't sell the one much less the two?

"Why spend all this money on a Department of Agriculture to show the farmer how to get the greatest yield out of his land if the stuff he raises rots in the field for lack of buyers?

"What is the use of preaching to farmers thus beset to go and borrow money in order to increase the fertility of their land so that instead of having 100,000 car loads of farm produce rot in their fields, they can have 200,000 go to waste in that manner and for the same reason?"

Clarence Ousley of Fort Worth, called by the House Judiciary Committee of the 33rd Legislature to give his views on agriculture said:

"The State is spending $50,000 per year on agricultural stations, etc., to increase the farmer's production, yet the more the farmer produces the less he gets. If it were statesmanship to educate the farmers to increase production, it is now much more the part of statesmanship to provide for a proper system of marketing his products that the hands of the producer may get adequate remuneration."

Larger the Yield the Less Money for Farmer

Hon. Hatton W. Sumners of Dallas, Congressman at Large, said in an address to the First National Conference on Marketing held at Chicago, April 9th.

"A large total yield of any crop brings less money than a smaller yield. There is the vice; a sixteen million bale cotton crop in 1911 brought over $125,000,000 less than a twelve million bale crop the preceding year. The corn crop of 1912 was much larger than that of 1911, yet it was worth $50,000,000 less money. The producer is not permitted to participate in the benefits of a bountiful harvest but is punished for its production."

The testimony of many other men, equally as well informed and as prominent in public affairs, could be introduced but I am now encouraged to take up the discussion on my own account and my next article will be devoted to an outline of co-operative plans of marketing farm products as officially adopted by the Farmers' Union.

In closing let me add to the evidence of these men who have gone to the roots of the subject, an analysis of the personel of conventions held in this state in the interest of agriculture.

Farmers Alive to Importance of Matters

The Farmers' Union, a short time ago, held a State meeting in Fort Worth to discuss marketing and 1600 farmers—men who follow the plow—accredited delegates representing thousands of farmers, were present. It is safe to say that if production had been the theme, not a single farmer would have attended the convention. When conventions are held to discuss production only you will find, as a rule, business men in attendance who are exclusive consumers, excepting a few farmers who are there to receive gratuities. Making all due allowance for the difference in viewpoint of those who work in skyscrapers and those who work in the field, one cannot escape the conclusion that someone is honestly mistaken and mistakes of this magnitude always breed prejudice, malice and class hatred and we all suffer in consequence. The Farmers' Union stands ready to follow plans that are for the best interests of Texas and we invite discussion of our problems and in turn ask a patient reading of the series of articles which we are now preparing for the press presenting the farmer's understanding of agricultural conditions to the end that errors may be sifted out of the subject and that we can all unite in a harmonious effort to promote the progress of Texas.

ANNOYING TACTICS OF SUFFRAGETTES

Dynamite and Torch Not Only Means Employed by Militants to Cause Trouble

By Associated Press

London, May 3.—The militant suffragettes may burn vacant buildings and destroy golf greens, and the interest of the general public is indirect and often passive. A method of more real annoyance was wanted, something that would reach certain individuals with particular severity, and a series of hoaxes was devised. These vary with the circumstances of the case, but a practical joke played Prosecutor Bodkin is typical.

Mr. Bodkin has conducted the case for the government at many of the suffragette trials. He it was who proceeded against Mrs. Pankhurst. In the midst of this trial he was called from his bed at three o'clock one morning by a telegram which stated that his offices in the Temple were burning. Without waiting to complete his dressing, Mr. Bodkin flung on an overcoat and was driven at high speed through the deserted streets from his home in the edge of London to the Temple. Arrived there he found all peaceful and dark. The prosecutor had little doubt as to what agency to attribute the hoax, but he was doubly convinced when, as he climbed into his car for the drive home, he heard a mocking feminine voice from the direction of the Embankment cry "Votes for Women."

The next day Bodkin made his address to the jury in the Pankhurst case, and some of the severity of his denunciation of the suffragette tactics has been attributed to his early morning visit to his offices.

The American embassy has been so overwhelmed lately by requests from America by heirs who believe that they have enormous estates in Chancery in England, that it has become necessary to adopt a printed form for the replies to these communications.

The only thing the embassy is permitted to do in the matter is to suggest a competent legal adviser to investigate the case. It cannot itself conduct investigations. It does, however, tell inquirers that there are no large unclaimed estates in Great Britain. The vast sums constantly spoken of as dormant in Chancery or awaiting claimants in the Bank of England are purely imaginary and, according to the embassy, are too often the invention of swindlers who obtain money for the prosecution of fictitious claims to the fictitious fortunes.

The funds in Chancery open to claim are few, and average less than $1,800 each, two only approaching $75,000. Most of them would consume their own value in the cost of recovery. The fullest proof of genealogy is demanded, and the lack of data in the United States for this purpose make the process very expensive. Furthermore, as the passage of twenty years and sometimes less bars recovery under the English statutes of limitations, the chance of picking up an estate in Chancery is exceedingly small.

Don't Wait Until Fall

We are of the opinion that if you are expecting to attend our school you cannot give a reasonable excuse for postponing entering until fall. We can present sufficient proof to convince you that the earlier you start in to obtain a practical education, the better it will be for you. We have now almost as large an attendance in the summer as in the winter. We offer every inducement in Summer that we offer in the Winter. Our past records show that students attending school in June, July and August make as good progress as those attending any other three months in the year. This is due to the fact that our school rooms are cool and pleasant, and that our teachers put forth the same energy in the summer months as in the winter. He who enters now will finish in time for a good position during the busy fall season. We will get the position for you. We will start you into 1914 with more money, and a practical education besides. It has been our life work solving just such problems as yours, and qualifying young men and women to earn three dollars where they could not have earned one.

Write us by return mail, tell us confidentially what is hindering you from entering before fall. We now have over 750 in daily attendance. Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

ADVANTAGES OF CREPE FOR SUMMER GOWNS

New York, May 3—The woman who is now wrestling with the problem of summer clothes demands our aid and sympathy She must not be allowed to indulge too freely in the new, gay materials, no matter how great the appeal made to her love of color The dress for practical wear must be quiet in tone but it will be all the smarter if brightened by a bit of Bulgarian silk or embroidery Shopkeepers look dubious when asked if the new fabrics retain their color in the wash They advise dry cleaning But dry cleaning is expensive, the fabrics that need frequent cleaning are alluring, and it is just here that advice is timely Solid colored ratine, veleour, eponge and batiste do not soil quickly To be sure, the soft pile of the fabric crushes easily, especially at the back of the skirt, and for this reason many women prefer voile and crepe and fabrics of harder finish With good care a frock of any of these materials, of a shade not too delicate, may be worn an entire summer and still appear fresh

This frock shows the possibilities of such material. It was developed in cotton crepe of a deep Caprian blue tint, combined with all over embroidery for front insert and cuffs The collar is of Bohemian lace and the lapels of black satin Both bodice and skirt have considerable fulness at the back and about the hips, but slender lines are maintained at the bottom

The "long, lean" skirt may be worn by women of all ages, curveless lines give length and erectness to the body and have a tendency to remove any indication of age by taking away the appearance of flesh The slashed skirt has, after months of protest met with favor Pretty women with pretty ankles do not mind showing them, and, too, the slash permits a greater freedom of movement, so why not? To be sure, the slash in a skirt intended for morning is not so much in evidence as in those for afternoon and evening wear Since tightness about the ankles has become more accentuated, a means of obviating this had to be considered To this purpose the slash was originally introduced It still serves its purpose but has also been made to serve another that of adding grace and beauty, and sometimes, too if unduly extended absurdity. The width of the skirt at the hem, although remaining as narrow as possible, must vary with the size of the waist and the development of the hips Many skirts have deep inset pleats In order that these be kept in place, they should be taped across on the inside half way down the skirt.

The return of the flounced skirt is a notable feature of summer styles These flounces are both double and triple, but little superfluous is used in making them The lower flounce is usually less full than the upper one, thus affording the necessary narrow proportions at the lower edge For these flounced skirts, material such as bordered bastite, voile, crepe and mousseline are used, allover openwork embroideries, too, are much in favor, both for flounced and tunic skirts The tunic are edged about with a band of filet lace and worn over a plain foundation.

An attractive skirt for a young girl has a double flounce of embroidered batiste and scalloped edges The upper flounce is finished with a frill of net about an inch and a half deep Voile, embroidered in pastel shades and with scalloped edges treated in similar fashion, is also effective For this no hem is necessary. A jacket on the lines of the Russian blouse is attractive with this style of skirt, the scallops taking the place of hemmed edges Draped skirts, too, when made of soft fabrics, are very fashionable and are becoming alike to matron and maid

In many of the most fashionable, but, let us also add, the most eccentric styles of skirts, all the laws of tailoring and dressmaking seem defied The skirts are conspicuous for their absence of gores The top of the straight breadths is folded into the waist band in a manner entirely dependent on the maker's sense of artistic quantities rather than in conformity to any defined rules At the upper front the skirt edges lap, at the lower section the edges are prettily curved exposing a dainty shoe and sometimes a goodly bit of dainty stocking With these loosely fitting skirts as though to increase the size of the waist, a girdle is worn wound carelessly about and knotted in the center front, the ends hanging free from the waist line

Most of the plain skirts which cross to one side have a finish of buttons Buttons of Bulgarian coloring are very fashionable and where the trimming of the waist is of this shade of silk are most effective Sometimes a row of ornaments in the style of of military frogs is used These are made of washable braid and are placed horizontally across the front closing of waist and extend down the skirt to the knee Linen agaric, eponge, and ratine either in oyster white tan russet brown or blue, and in a loose weave are attractive trimmed either with the frogs or with gaily colored silks

Very pleasing is the frock of Caprian blue eponge, illustrated here Girdle and band are of Bulgarian silk with blue and purple shades predominating Drapery appears in both waist and skirt, and the skirt shows the smartly cutaway slash at the lower edge

Tassels are an important feature of the season's styles Not only are they often used on evening gowns but they are frequently seen on wraps and afternoon frocks By serving as weights they draw attention to the length of line, whether placed on sash ends shoulder or sleeve tabs or as a finish to drapery of tunic or of warp When used with elaborately brocaded silks they tend to give an upholstery look to a costume but all things must contribute their share to the clothing of woman and what matters it so long as the effect is original and attractive

TWO LEADERS IN BELGIAN STRIKE

SKETCHES OF TWO SOCIALISTS WHO HAVE COME TO FOREFRONT AS RESULT OF STRIKE

PERSONALITIES DIFFER

Emile Vandervelde and Edward Anseele are Two Men Who Lead The Workingmen

By Associated Press.

Brussels, May 3.—Two men have come to the forefront of public attention as a result of the recent political strike in Belgium, each adding to his popularity and his record as a successful Socialist leader. They are men of wide divergent characteristics, Emile Vandervelde, the gifted brilliant intellectualgiant, and Dduard Anseele the youthful enthusiast and each in his particular field contributed materially to the measurable progress made in the past month toward manhood suffrage in Belgium.

Vandervelde, who has led the Socialists of this country since the death of Jean Volders, is approaching his fiftieth birthday. In his youth he studied law, but his interest in social questions prevented his practicing. He is possessed of high literary gifts a wide knowledge and is an able statesman. Of markedly pale complexion, aquiline nose and penetrating eyes Vandervelde's face once seen, is rarely forgotten. He was elected to the Chamber of Deputies in 1894, and rapidly distinguished himself be his eloquence and intellectual superiority. As a speaker he is remarkable for his distinct utterance, the preciseness and clearness of his thought and the logic of his reasoning. He is a magnificent debater, never losing his temper, and keeping his head in the most difficult situations.

Vandervelde's reasons for belonging to the Socialist party are rather those of the head than the heart. His convictions are purely intellectual. He is, and always has been, a determined opponent of the recent general strike which he believes will only delay the triumph of the cause of socialism. But the majority of the party having pronounced in favor of the strike, Vandervelde bowed to the decision and cooperated in the common work to the best of his ability.

The other Socialist leader Eduard Anseele founder of the 'Vooruit' of Ghent presents a striking contrast in every way to Vandervelde. Of open and engaging countenance, possessed of a warm and vibrant voice, Anseele charms all who come in contact with him. He is an excellent speaker, using a wealth of imagery to convey his meaning which he further enforces with vigorous gestures. Possessing no personal means he lives on his deputy's salary of $800 a year and an income of $416 which he gets as a director of the "Vooruit." He contributes nearly half this small revenue to the Socialist cause.

Unlike Vandervelde Anseele is a working man. He has known the world's rough hand. His father was a shoemaker, but wanting earnestly to give his son some education he labored with extreme self renunciation to this end. Young Anseele was employed in turn by an architect, a seedsman and a cloth merchant. One evening he entered a Socialist meeting and was so profoundly impressed by the picture of the misery of the people drawn by the speaker that he at once enrolled himself in the ranks of the International." The next day having confided his new political views to his employer he was summarily dismissed. Not daring to show himself to his father, he ran away to Antwerp whence he worked his way to London. During six months he wandered about the British capital often sleeping under the bridges. He tried to enlist, but was rejected on account of his lack of inches.

Eventually the young man returned to Ghent, where he became a printer. In association with others he organized a cooperative bakery. This was the beginning of the "Vooruit," now famous throughout Belgium. Vooruit is a Flemish word meaning "forward," and it has become the rallying cry of the Socialists of Ghent. The organization, which at the end of its first year counted only 500 members now has over 10,000, and it owns warehouses and other buildings valued at nearly $100,000.
